

Express Parcel Service
Jerusalem Tel Aviv Haifa Nahariya
Tel. 220-0000 220-0000 220-0000

Marginal Column
By "COMMENTATOR"

THE 20th Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union is due to open today, an event which overshadows everything else in a large part of the world. It might be the appropriate occasion to recall the name of one man, the only one, who predicted more than thirty years ago what would happen today. He will not be elected to the new "Presidium," nor is he a delegate to the Party Congress. His name will be remembered by only a few among those who convene today in Moscow, and if he is still alive he must be a very old man. Yet it must be doubted whether anybody else in our days lived to see his predictions as completely vindicated as Prof. Nikolai Ustryalov.

USTRYALOV was a bourgeois politician and belonged to the "Constitutional Democrats" of 1905 vintage. He opposed the November revolution in 1917, was a minister in the short-lived Kolchak Government at Omsk, and later escaped, like many other White Russian refugees to Harbin. Until then hardly anything original or striking could be noted in his political career. But he was the first among the many Russian emigrants to revise his attitude towards the new Soviet state, and in a small book, published in France in 1921, "The Change of Landmarks," he called for understanding and support of the Soviet Union. In another book, published in Harbin in the middle 20's he was even more outspoken. The emigrants regarded him as a renegade and a traitor, though Lenin called him an open class enemy who was only a little better than the other emigrants. Yet Ustryalov was not offended. He wrote, "To imagine that the Russian revolution was not a national revolution is to make a profound mistake. The years will pass by, a new generation will emerge, the old enemy will be forgotten, and only then it will be understood that Lenin is ours, a national hero, like Dmitri Donskoi, Peter the Great, Pushkin and Tolstol. This is the destiny, the way is practically the same. The Communists are destroying the state according to Marxist-Leninist ideology, but they will establish the most powerful and absolute state of their time. They fight against militarism, and they will end by establishing the largest regular army imbued with the most intense patriotic spirit. They destroy the bourgeoisie and wish to free themselves from all nationalist-Russian influences, yet in the end, a new ruling class will emerge, with the same, and perhaps larger, privileges, and the international line will become a useful slogan, but in practice it will be replaced by a new Soviet and Russian nationalism. It will be a real, and the greatest, Russian renaissance." Most people in Moscow smiled at that time, the chimeras of a bourgeois professor who had not mastered the ABC of historical materialism. Stalin called Ustryalov in one speech a "Great - Russian chauvinist." Fifteen years ago this Soviet politician, in the Soviet Union, disappeared from the Soviet horizon. In the same year, Prof. Ustryalov returned from Harbin to Moscow, and became a Soviet citizen.

USTRYALOV'S analysis and predictions of 1922, which were made in great detail, tell us that we have come to quite here, proved to be astonishingly correct. Yet they were unpopular then, and they have not become more popular by now; they have been conveniently forgotten. It is somewhat embarrassing that a bourgeois professor proved to be right, where all scientific prophets were wrong. If he should still be alive today in Moscow, an old and wizened little man, and should listen to the opening speeches of the Party Congress, he will be told by his grandchildren that this is exactly what Marx, Lenin and Stalin always predicted. Ustryalov might smile, but then, an old man will be forgiven.

Overall Electric Power Authority To Be Set Up

Jerusalem POST Reporter

A five-member Power Board is to be set up as the central authority on all matters concerning electricity by the Finance Ministry and the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, a spokesman for the latter Minister said in Jerusalem on Friday. The Board is to be headed by Mr. L. Yelenski, President of the Engineers Association.

The Board will deal with all questions of prices, concessions to companies and planning. Two Board members will represent the Finance Ministry and another two the Ministry of Commerce and Industry.

It is believed that the establishment of the Board is connected with the development projects to be implemented with German reparations equipment.

Dr. S. Traub, adviser to the Finance Ministry, who prepared the outline of the development plan, strongly recommended in his report the establishment of such a central authority, which would deal with the entire problem of electrical energy from generation to application.

Developing power production absorbs the largest foreign currency expenditures in Dr. Traub's 10-year plan. Under this plan, 50% of the reparations funds will be used to purchase electrical equipment in Germany and another 50% to be used to purchase equipment, not obtainable in Germany, from other countries. The total, $100,000,000, is to be used in 10 years.

The project is to be carried out by a company, which will be established to develop electricity in the country, and to take into account the fact that the present 100,000 KW installation can only serve as a stand-by for about six years.

When he meets the Progressives on Thursday, Mr. Ben Gurion is expected to be more explicit than he had been in his meetings with the General Zionists.

The Progressives, who had been in the Government until last year, stayed out of the present coalition because, they claim, Mr. Ben Gurion had been to blame for the failure to establish a broader coalition with the General Zionists a year ago. Complete accord on a program had been reached between the parties, but the negotiations had broken down when Mapai declined to give the General Zionists the Commerce and Industry portfolio.

Over the past year the Progressives have said that the ideological differences between the General Zionists and Mapai have narrowed, and that a broader basis for the Government was more necessary than ever.

Mr. Ben Gurion will seek to persuade the 10-member executive to re-examine the opinion here in that he stands a better chance of doing it than he would have a year ago. The relationship between the General Zionists and the Progressives has worsened.

The Progressives were particularly concerned at the Zionist refusal to go along with them in establishing a coalition with the Jewish Ministry for the election of a Mayor.

There is also a feeling in the Progressive Party that they could have more influence in the Government than at the moment, and that if they returned they could influence the expenditure of the German reparations money.

The delegates protested unanimously against the Conservative government's cuts in education services and Mr. Churchill's housing programme.

Figures issued show that several former Labour ministers received surprisingly low votes in last week's elections to the seven political seats on the Party's National Executive. Six of the seats were captured by Bevan supporters.

Mr. Bevan received the highest vote of 10,000, followed by Mr. Morrison with 8,000 and Mr. Cripps with 7,000.

G.Z. Break Off Coalition Talks

By Moshe Brillant, Our Parliamentary Correspondent

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — The talks between Prime Minister Ben Gurion and the General Zionists for broadening the Government coalition were formally ended tonight. The Prime Minister will appear before the Executive of the Progressive Party here on Thursday, and will seek to persuade them to swing their four Knesset votes behind the Government which would give the coalition a 64-56 majority in the House.

The General Zionists announced the break-down after their spokesman, Dr. Peretz Bernstein, notified the Prime Minister during a luncheon at the Shalom Hotel in Haifa yesterday that his party had decided against continuing the discussion until Mr. Ben Gurion made practical proposals. Mr. Ben Gurion replied in effect "you know where to find me if you want me."

Tonight, Mr. Bernstein sent a note to the Prime Minister at the Shalom Hotel beginning: "I regret to establish that you broke off the talks... which had ended in a belief that they were designed to achieve a coalition agreement between your party and ours."

The note went on to say that Mr. Ben Gurion had not complied with General Zionist requests for a change to discuss concrete proposals, but instead had insisted on the alleged "negative attitude" of the General Zionists toward Labour enterprises as an excuse to end the negotiations. It added that in the negotiations the General Zionists had accepted the Ben Gurion formula of "equality for all economic sectors" as a basis for the coalition agreement.

The feeling in political circles is that the General Zionists would be ready to listen any time Mr. Ben Gurion would be prepared to offer a coalition agreement.

Expected to be Explicit
When he meets the Progressives on Thursday, Mr. Ben Gurion is expected to be more explicit than he had been in his meetings with the General Zionists.

The Progressives, who had been in the Government until last year, stayed out of the present coalition because, they claim, Mr. Ben Gurion had been to blame for the failure to establish a broader coalition with the General Zionists a year ago. Complete accord on a program had been reached between the parties, but the negotiations had broken down when Mapai declined to give the General Zionists the Commerce and Industry portfolio.

Over the past year the Progressives have said that the ideological differences between the General Zionists and Mapai have narrowed, and that a broader basis for the Government was more necessary than ever.

Mr. Ben Gurion will seek to persuade the 10-member executive to re-examine the opinion here in that he stands a better chance of doing it than he would have a year ago. The relationship between the General Zionists and the Progressives has worsened.

The Progressives were particularly concerned at the Zionist refusal to go along with them in establishing a coalition with the Jewish Ministry for the election of a Mayor.

There is also a feeling in the Progressive Party that they could have more influence in the Government than at the moment, and that if they returned they could influence the expenditure of the German reparations money.

The delegates protested unanimously against the Conservative government's cuts in education services and Mr. Churchill's housing programme.

Figures issued show that several former Labour ministers received surprisingly low votes in last week's elections to the seven political seats on the Party's National Executive. Six of the seats were captured by Bevan supporters.

Mr. Bevan received the highest vote of 10,000, followed by Mr. Morrison with 8,000 and Mr. Cripps with 7,000.

The delegates protested unanimously against the Conservative government's cuts in education services and Mr. Churchill's housing programme.

Figures issued show that several former Labour ministers received surprisingly low votes in last week's elections to the seven political seats on the Party's National Executive. Six of the seats were captured by Bevan supporters.

Mr. Bevan received the highest vote of 10,000, followed by Mr. Morrison with 8,000 and Mr. Cripps with 7,000.

The delegates protested unanimously against the Conservative government's cuts in education services and Mr. Churchill's housing programme.

Acheson Puts Off Moscow Request To Recall Kennan

WASHINGTON, Saturday

(Reuters). — Although Secretary of State Dean Acheson has said there is no "present" intention of asking Russia to recall Soviet Ambassador George Zerkov, following the Soviet demand for the recall of American Ambassador in Moscow, George Kennan, it seems inevitable that demands will grow here for the removal of Mr. Zerkov.

Announcing the demand for Mr. Kennan's recall, Secretary of State Acheson said he has no intention of asking for the recall of Soviet Ambassador Zerkov. No consideration was being given to severing diplomatic relations, he added.

Acheson is not recognizing the validity of the Soviet demand and is not formally withdrawing Kennan's credentials.

The alleged softness of the Administration in general and Acheson in particular towards Soviet aggression is a major presidential election campaign issue. It might be damaging for the Democratic Administration to make an issue of refusing to retaliate against the Soviet Ambassador, but Mr. Acheson has said that he is not prepared to do so.

Mr. Acheson's recall of Secretary of State Acheson said he has no intention of asking for the recall of Soviet Ambassador Zerkov. No consideration was being given to severing diplomatic relations, he added.

Mr. Acheson is not recognizing the validity of the Soviet demand and is not formally withdrawing Kennan's credentials.

The alleged softness of the Administration in general and Acheson in particular towards Soviet aggression is a major presidential election campaign issue. It might be damaging for the Democratic Administration to make an issue of refusing to retaliate against the Soviet Ambassador, but Mr. Acheson has said that he is not prepared to do so.

Mr. Acheson's recall of Secretary of State Acheson said he has no intention of asking for the recall of Soviet Ambassador Zerkov. No consideration was being given to severing diplomatic relations, he added.

Mr. Acheson is not recognizing the validity of the Soviet demand and is not formally withdrawing Kennan's credentials.

The alleged softness of the Administration in general and Acheson in particular towards Soviet aggression is a major presidential election campaign issue. It might be damaging for the Democratic Administration to make an issue of refusing to retaliate against the Soviet Ambassador, but Mr. Acheson has said that he is not prepared to do so.

Mr. Acheson's recall of Secretary of State Acheson said he has no intention of asking for the recall of Soviet Ambassador Zerkov. No consideration was being given to severing diplomatic relations, he added.

Mr. Acheson is not recognizing the validity of the Soviet demand and is not formally withdrawing Kennan's credentials.

The alleged softness of the Administration in general and Acheson in particular towards Soviet aggression is a major presidential election campaign issue. It might be damaging for the Democratic Administration to make an issue of refusing to retaliate against the Soviet Ambassador, but Mr. Acheson has said that he is not prepared to do so.

Mr. Acheson's recall of Secretary of State Acheson said he has no intention of asking for the recall of Soviet Ambassador Zerkov. No consideration was being given to severing diplomatic relations, he added.

Mr. Acheson is not recognizing the validity of the Soviet demand and is not formally withdrawing Kennan's credentials.

The alleged softness of the Administration in general and Acheson in particular towards Soviet aggression is a major presidential election campaign issue. It might be damaging for the Democratic Administration to make an issue of refusing to retaliate against the Soviet Ambassador, but Mr. Acheson has said that he is not prepared to do so.

Mr. Acheson's recall of Secretary of State Acheson said he has no intention of asking for the recall of Soviet Ambassador Zerkov. No consideration was being given to severing diplomatic relations, he added.

Mr. Acheson is not recognizing the validity of the Soviet demand and is not formally withdrawing Kennan's credentials.

The alleged softness of the Administration in general and Acheson in particular towards Soviet aggression is a major presidential election campaign issue. It might be damaging for the Democratic Administration to make an issue of refusing to retaliate against the Soviet Ambassador, but Mr. Acheson has said that he is not prepared to do so.

Mr. Acheson's recall of Secretary of State Acheson said he has no intention of asking for the recall of Soviet Ambassador Zerkov. No consideration was being given to severing diplomatic relations, he added.

Mr. Acheson is not recognizing the validity of the Soviet demand and is not formally withdrawing Kennan's credentials.

U.K. Rejects Iran Plan, But Leaves Door Open

Full Accord Reached with U.S.

LONDON, Saturday (UP). — Britain has rejected Premier

Monsieur's "ultimatum" proposals for the settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute. In a letter delivered by the Charge d'Affaires, Mr. George Middleton, in Tehran today, the last day of the 10-day limit set by Dr. Mossadegh's note. Britain stated that she could not accept the proposals, but left the door open for further negotiation, according to well informed sources.

The reply came after a week of tense negotiations with the U.S. which ended late today, official sources said. "Full agreement" on the text of the note had been achieved between Britain and the U.S.

The Foreign Office maintained silence on the text of its reply but let it be known that the proposals made by Dr. Mossadegh last Thursday were not acceptable. These included a demand that Britain should pay $40m. to Iran before negotiations can begin and that British compensation should be limited to the physical assets of the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Peria began today to work down her threat to sever diplomatic relations with Britain. Authoritative sources said Dr. Mossadegh will definitely recall Persia's representative from Britain but would not demand the withdrawal of Britain's envoy from the country.

This change came within one hour of the expiration of Dr. Mossadegh's 10-day ultimatum. Informed sources said this threat was taken on the advice of the former U.N. General Assembly president, Nasserul Abkhair.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

Full Accord Reached with U.S.

LONDON, Saturday (UP). — Britain has rejected Premier

Monsieur's "ultimatum" proposals for the settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute. In a letter delivered by the Charge d'Affaires, Mr. George Middleton, in Tehran today, the last day of the 10-day limit set by Dr. Mossadegh's note. Britain stated that she could not accept the proposals, but left the door open for further negotiation, according to well informed sources.

The reply came after a week of tense negotiations with the U.S. which ended late today, official sources said. "Full agreement" on the text of the note had been achieved between Britain and the U.S.

The Foreign Office maintained silence on the text of its reply but let it be known that the proposals made by Dr. Mossadegh last Thursday were not acceptable. These included a demand that Britain should pay $40m. to Iran before negotiations can begin and that British compensation should be limited to the physical assets of the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Peria began today to work down her threat to sever diplomatic relations with Britain. Authoritative sources said Dr. Mossadegh will definitely recall Persia's representative from Britain but would not demand the withdrawal of Britain's envoy from the country.

This change came within one hour of the expiration of Dr. Mossadegh's 10-day ultimatum. Informed sources said this threat was taken on the advice of the former U.N. General Assembly president, Nasserul Abkhair.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

Full Accord Reached with U.S.

LONDON, Saturday (UP). — Britain has rejected Premier

Monsieur's "ultimatum" proposals for the settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute. In a letter delivered by the Charge d'Affaires, Mr. George Middleton, in Tehran today, the last day of the 10-day limit set by Dr. Mossadegh's note. Britain stated that she could not accept the proposals, but left the door open for further negotiation, according to well informed sources.

The reply came after a week of tense negotiations with the U.S. which ended late today, official sources said. "Full agreement" on the text of the note had been achieved between Britain and the U.S.

The Foreign Office maintained silence on the text of its reply but let it be known that the proposals made by Dr. Mossadegh last Thursday were not acceptable. These included a demand that Britain should pay $40m. to Iran before negotiations can begin and that British compensation should be limited to the physical assets of the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Peria began today to work down her threat to sever diplomatic relations with Britain. Authoritative sources said Dr. Mossadegh will definitely recall Persia's representative from Britain but would not demand the withdrawal of Britain's envoy from the country.

This change came within one hour of the expiration of Dr. Mossadegh's 10-day ultimatum. Informed sources said this threat was taken on the advice of the former U.N. General Assembly president, Nasserul Abkhair.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

Full Accord Reached with U.S.

LONDON, Saturday (UP). — Britain has rejected Premier

Monsieur's "ultimatum" proposals for the settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute. In a letter delivered by the Charge d'Affaires, Mr. George Middleton, in Tehran today, the last day of the 10-day limit set by Dr. Mossadegh's note. Britain stated that she could not accept the proposals, but left the door open for further negotiation, according to well informed sources.

The reply came after a week of tense negotiations with the U.S. which ended late today, official sources said. "Full agreement" on the text of the note had been achieved between Britain and the U.S.

The Foreign Office maintained silence on the text of its reply but let it be known that the proposals made by Dr. Mossadegh last Thursday were not acceptable. These included a demand that Britain should pay $40m. to Iran before negotiations can begin and that British compensation should be limited to the physical assets of the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Peria began today to work down her threat to sever diplomatic relations with Britain. Authoritative sources said Dr. Mossadegh will definitely recall Persia's representative from Britain but would not demand the withdrawal of Britain's envoy from the country.

This change came within one hour of the expiration of Dr. Mossadegh's 10-day ultimatum. Informed sources said this threat was taken on the advice of the former U.N. General Assembly president, Nasserul Abkhair.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayatollah Kashani, announced today that he favored Persia's overture to restore relations with Britain. He declared that Persia had gained nothing from a riot on Wednesday. On the contrary Britain had utilized these relations to its own advantage.

The speaker of the Majlis Ayat

Today's Post Bag

THE WEATHER

	A	B	C	D
Jerusalem	64	62	58	56
Tel Aviv	68	66	62	60
Haifa	64	62	58	56
Beirut	68	66	62	60
Amman	64	62	58	56
Baghdad	68	66	62	60
Tripoli	64	62	58	56
London	68	66	62	60
Paris	64	62	58	56
Rome	68	66	62	60
Moscow	64	62	58	56
Stockholm	68	66	62	60
Helsinki	64	62	58	56
Oslo	68	66	62	60
Copenhagen	64	62	58	56
Berlin	68	66	62	60
Frankfurt	64	62	58	56
Zurich	68	66	62	60
Geneva	64	62	58	56
Basel	68	66	62	60
Brussels	64	62	58	56
Amsterdam	68	66	62	60
Antwerp	64	62	58	56
Lisbon	68	66	62	60
Madrid	64	62	58	56
Barcelona	68	66	62	60
Valencia	64	62	58	56
Seville	68	66	62	60
Cordoba	64	62	58	56
Granada	68	66	62	60
Malaga	64	62	58	56
Cadiz	68	66	62	60
San Sebastian	64	62	58	56
Bilbao	68	66	62	60
Vitoria	64	62	58	56
Pamplona	68	66	62	60
Leioa	64	62	58	56
Barakaldo	68	66	62	60
Getxo	64	62	58	56
Leizor	68	66	62	60
Deba	64	62	58	56
Eibar	68	66	62	60
Irigoien	64	62	58	56
Amara	68	66	62	60
Estoril	64	62	58	56
Algarve	68	66	62	60
Alentejo	64	62	58	56
Beira	68	66	62	60
Coimbra	64	62	58	56
Lisbon	68	66	62	60
Porto	64	62	58	56
Vila Real	68	66	62	60
Braganca	64	62	58	56
Trancoso	68	66	62	60
Castelo Branco	64	62	58	56
Evora	68	66	62	60
Beja	64	62	58	56
Faro	68	66	62	60
Algarve	64	62	58	56
Alentejo	68	66	62	60
Beira	64	62	58	56
Coimbra	68	66	62	60
Lisbon	64	62	58	56
Porto	68	66	62	60
Vila Real	64	62	58	56
Braganca	68	66	62	60
Trancoso	64	62	58	56
Castelo Branco	68	66	62	60
Evora	64	62	58	56
Beja	68	66	62	60
Faro	64	62	58	56

Twenty SHAMEN...
A BIR...
FOR USING...
WHILE PUTTING...
FOR STRAIGHT...
CLOTH VALUED...
FOR OFFERING...
SUSPECTED...
COURSES...
THE PROBLEM...
A 15-YEAR...
THE MONTHLY...
AN EXHIBITION...
BURMESE VISITORS...
TEL AVIV...
The official...
The delegates...
The three...
Mandate Lottery...
RATION NEWS...
BABIES' BATHS...

Labour Force Set Up To Conserve Soil

Jerusalem POST Staff

A budget of IL200,000 for a labour force to work on soil conservation projects was approved last week by the Ministry of Labour, it is learned.

The use of funds hitherto allocated to public works, such as road building and other construction, for soil conservation instead is one of the recommendations made by Prof. W.C. Lowdermilk, U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization expert advising the Soil Conservation Service of the Ministry of Agriculture.

The new appropriation coincides with the completion of a course for soil technicians conducted by Mr. William Bender, of the U.S. Conservation Service, who is also here as an F.A.O. expert.

Twenty Men Trained

Twenty men including an Arab farmer received their instruction at the Ruppel Agricultural College near Kfar Saba and are now qualified as technical foremen to supervise the work to be done by the men of the new "labour corps" of the Ministry of Labour.

The project is similar to that of the Civil Conservation Corps (C.C.C.), of President Roosevelt's New Deal.

A third F.A.O. project in the area of soil conservation is an agricultural engineering course at the Ruppel Agricultural College, near Kfar Saba, which will start on Thursday.

The course will be conducted by Mr. William Bender, of the U.S. Conservation Service, who is also here as an F.A.O. expert.

GROUP STUDYING PRODUCTIVITY

A programme of job analysis and professional aptitude is being worked out by a group sponsored by the Ministry of Labour in Jerusalem. It was announced on Friday.

The group, headed by Mr. P. Jorjick of the International Labour Organization, who was sent to Israel upon the Ministry's request, is working on methods of transferring unemployed workers to productive fields, raising the production level, and other employment problems.

Members of the group represent the Ministry, the Civil Service Commission, the Army, the Labour Front, the Histadrut, the Central Bureau of Statistics, the Department of Agriculture, the Histadrut Executive, "Koor," the Manufacturers Association, and the Institute for Applied Social Research.

Council Agrees To Sackings at Port

HAIFA, Saturday.—The Haifa Labour Council has agreed to sack the contracting company of workers in Haifa Port during the present slack period.

The service company proposed a system of rotating work among the 1,000 permanent men. This proposal, it appears, was rejected by the Council.

The company has proposed a list of several hundred men who are to be laid off.

Prof. Glueck May Conduct 10-Year Archaeological Survey of Israel

Jerusalem POST Reporter

Professor Nelson Glueck has been invited by the Israel Exploration Society to head a projected ten-year archaeological survey of Israel, under the aegis of the University, the Department of Antiquities, and the Exploration Society. This would entail the Professor working here three months of each year, to direct mapping and field-work which he first undertook east of the Jordan in 1927.

"I would not think of excavating anywhere except in Israel," said Professor Glueck, President of the Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, who is here as guest lecturer at the Israel Exploration Society conference to be inaugurated this evening near Kinneret. The Professor told Jerusalem pressmen that civilization in the Jordan Valley was at least 8,000 years old, and must have included settlements perhaps a hundred times bigger than the existing ones.

The conference itself is concerned almost entirely with the Jordan Valley civilization, the study of which Prof. Glueck has contributed a major body of research and popular literature.

Four-Day Conference

The four-day conference, is centred at Bet Yerah where Israel archaeologists are at work unearthing remains of what may prove to be the most important ancient settlement in the Jordan area. Two days will be devoted to symposia on the archaeological, historic, and topographic aspects of the civilisation in particular, and of Israel as part of ancient Middle Eastern civilisations.

Tours to Capernaum, Bethan, Bet Shearim, Bet Alpha and other noted historic sites in the Jordan and Jezreel Valleys at the conference will conclude with an inspection of the Huleh Drainage project accompanied by talks on its geological formation.

Asked about the possibility of a new settlement in the Jordan area, Prof. Glueck said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

He said that he had no opinion on the matter.

Murdered On Bat Yam Beach

Jerusalem POST Reporter

TEL AVIV, Saturday.—Four revolver shots, echoing on the deserted beach at Bat Yam at 10 p.m. yesterday attracted passers-by who found Haim Scheraga, 35, of Abu Kahl, with two bullets in his body.

Scheraga, who died shortly afterwards, had been in Israel for three years and was described by the police tonight as a "professional criminal." They said that the background of the murder was known to them, but declined to reveal details.

A few permits have been detained, officers reported. The murdered man is survived by a wife and two children.

Man Injured During Neighbour Quarrel

RISHON LE ZION, Saturday.—Mr. Eliahu Yanashan of the Hametz housing project here was severely injured by a neighbour, Gedalyahu Elanberg, at noon today when the latter allegedly hit him on the head with a hammer in the course of an argument.

Yanashan was taken to Serafand Hospital in a critical condition, while Elanberg was detained and held without bond.

Jem Court Orders House Arrest

Jerusalem POST Reporter

In an unusual decision the Jerusalem Magistrate's Court ruled on Friday to confine Mr. Francis R. Stanakia, Director of the Hebrew Evangelical Society, Inc., to his home for four days, pending police investigation of charges that he had sold articles sent to the Society for distribution to charitable organizations here.

Mr. Stanakia, who is neither permitted to leave his home nor to receive visitors, also had to deposit a bond of IL400. The Police had asked the Magistrate to issue a warrant of arrest for 34 days; the same arrest was ordered in view of the status of the newspaper and the circumstances of the case.

Magistrate J. Cohen presided. Mr. N. Brand appeared for the defendant.

Jailed for Attacking Local Gov't Official

PETAH TIKVA, Saturday (TIM).—Shortly before his wife was due to give birth last June, Yehuda Cohen, 35, of Yehuda Village, asked the Chairman of the Local Council, Mr. Abraham Alkaleh, to permit a midwife who had trained abroad, but had no local license, to practice, to come and care for his wife. When Mr. Alkaleh said he could not give such permission, Cohen attacked him and created a disturbance in the Local Council office.

Cohen was yesterday sentenced to 40 days in prison by a local magistrate who said that in times such as these, when the forms of local government were being worked out, an attack on a local official was like an attack on the Government and should not be permitted.

SYRIA AND THE JEWISH PROBLEM

The Syrian Government has set up an inter-ministerial committee to consider means for the improvement of the situation of Syrian Jewry, Damascus Radio reported in its Hebrew news transmission yesterday afternoon.

Ahmed Shukairy, of Syria, Assistant Secretary-General of the Arab League, has arrived in Baghdad for a three-day visit at the invitation of King Idris. According to an ANA report, Shukairy is to discuss "Zionist activities in Libya" with the local authorities.

Learn Hebrew

at the HEBREW EVENING CLASSES of the Tel Aviv-Jaffa Municipality.

Registration from 6-8 p.m. at all Schools listed in the Municipality handbooks and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Organizing Office: 1 Alshich Rd., former Knesset Bldg., Tel Aviv.

Golden Calf Found After 350 Years

By HANDEL'S DEAN

POST Correspondent
JERUSALEM, Saturday.—A golden calf, found in the ruins of the Temple in Jerusalem, is being kept in the Museum of the Jewish People, it is learned.

The calf, which was found in the ruins of the Temple, is being kept in the Museum of the Jewish People, it is learned.

The calf, which was found in the ruins of the Temple, is being kept in the Museum of the Jewish People, it is learned.

The calf, which was found in the ruins of the Temple, is being kept in the Museum of the Jewish People, it is learned.

The calf, which was found in the ruins of the Temple, is being kept in the Museum of the Jewish People, it is learned.

The calf, which was found in the ruins of the Temple, is being kept in the Museum of the Jewish People, it is learned.

The calf, which was found in the ruins of the Temple, is being kept in the Museum of the Jewish People, it is learned.

Candidates Sling Mud

By Paul Scott Rankins, Reuters Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Saturday.—Mud-slinging, dodging of crucial issues and departures by the presidential candidates from middle-of-the-road stances have begun the political experts' predictions about the present campaign.

But just because it is proving more personal, it is more exciting than previous campaigns. Voters have been expected to find difficulty in choosing between the two candidates because of their common middle-of-the-road position on the most controversial foreign and domestic issues, but now the pressure of the campaign has shifted their ground.

Governor Stevenson has moved towards the political left, and Gen. Eisenhower to the right. One forecast had been that the Republicans and Democrats would be kept on a high level and would debate the crucial domestic and international problems of the day. But for the last 10 days the candidates have been engaged in a series of personal attacks on each other.

Another prediction was that the candidates would not indulge in personalities, but concentrate on issues and policies. Both candidates and their vice-presidential colleagues have ceased to pay even lip service to this convention. They not only "name" their opponents but call them abusive or anti-national names.

Jordan Justice

The Old City daily, "A-Difa," on Friday cited the case of a recently released Nabluh district villager as an example of how Jordan treats political "trouble-makers."

Mohammed Saleh Abu Chila was sentenced without trial to a month's detention near the Saudi Arabian border. After his release he was forced to walk 30 kilometres from his village home to report to the Saudi police station.

NEW JORDAN MAC MEMBER NOMINATED

The former Jordanian Reconstruction Minister, Anisat Hammad, has been nominated by the Amman Government to head the Jordanian delegation to the Mixed Arab-Jewish Commission.

The commission was set up to deal with the reconstruction of the Holy Land, and Hammad is a well-known figure in the Jordanian political scene.

Stalin's Theory Out in Pamphlet Form

MOSCOW, Saturday (Reuters).—Marshall Stalin's 50-page article on economics in the magazine "Pravda" has been published in pamphlet form of which 1,000,000 copies have been printed, "Pravda" reported yesterday.

"Pravda" said Marshall Stalin's work had "for the first time in Marxist literature given an analysis on the character of economic laws and the political economy of Socialism, formulated a basic economic law of Socialism and defined the basic conditions for the gradual transition of Socialism towards Communism."

"It is of the utmost international significance" the paper added.

The six-page newspaper, enlarged from its normal four pages, gave over two-thirds of its space to the first half of the article. Other newspapers throughout the U.S.S.R. are expected to print the article tomorrow.

FOR SALE

Superior electric water heater (hotter) more hot water for little electricity, made by John Wood U.S.A. 40 gallons capacity, custom duty and luxury tax paid.

PHOTO PRODUCTS

Western exposure-copies, all models, also analysers. Time-O-Lite products. Mendelsohn speedgrams, all kinds of photo and color prints. Western exposure-copies, all models, also analysers. Time-O-Lite products. Mendelsohn speedgrams, all kinds of photo and color prints.

Fire Fighting Equipment

EGON BERGHEIM

10 PATAHAU 30 P.O. 265 PHONE 3197 HAIFA

GENERAL ELECTRIC Triple-Whip MIXING

THIS IS ONE OF THE HELPFUL G.E. HOUSEHOLD APPLIANCES YOU CAN NOW RECEIVE AS A GIFT FROM THE U.S.A.

Information & Demonstration: AUTHORIZED DISTRIBUTORS: "GENERAL" ELECTRICAL & REFRIGERATION ENGINEERS LTD.

Tel Aviv: 22 Yavneh St. P.O.B. 722. Tel. 82343

Keep Your Business Going...

— I Do The Running

Capable agent with own car, well-organized office and great experience is prepared to accept agencies.

If you are interested, please write to: A.D. P.O.B. 1408, Tel Aviv.

STATE OF ISRAEL

Ministry of Transport and Communications
Posts Telegraphs Telephones and Radio

PUBLIC NOTICE NO. 14/4/52

Tenders are invited for the supply of Sugar and Fire

Quantities required are as stated below:

1. Further information can be obtained from the Office of the Acquisition Department, Haikira A.A.

2. The tender must be accompanied by a cheque of a well-known bank amounting to 10% of the amount quoted. The cheque should be certified by a bank and will serve as a guarantee of the bid.

3. Tenders shall state the date of delivery of goods.

4. Tenders shall state the date of delivery of goods.

W. Germany Plans Atomic Research

FRANKFURT, Saturday (Reuters).

The West German Chancellor, Dr. Adenauer said the "way" would be open for nuclear research among the Bonn Conventions with the three Western powers are in force. He said that Professor Heisenberg, a leading atom scientist and Nobel Prize winner, had reached an understanding with the Allies on control of German research.

Communists Renew Attack on Marty

PARIS, Saturday (Reuters).

The French Communist party yesterday launched a new attack against its discredited veteran leader, M. Andre Marty, and asserted he created "terror" among fellow Communists when he visited provincial party federations.

M. Marty, former party secretary, and M. Charles Tillon, former political member, were recently sacked and have not yet made a full admission of their "errors."

The Communist paper "L'Humanite" hinted today that the sanctions against them were "too lenient."

The paper adds they made ludicrous confessions on previous occasions, sapped the trust of the rank and file in party leader M. Maurice Thorez, and behaved "like feudal lords."

They were also charged with maintaining the role of the Soviet Union in the last war and exaggerating the importance of the French resistance movement.

The Communist Party yesterday outlined the main charges against M. Marty. They are: that he ignored or dismissed the historic part played by M. Maurice Thorez, the party leader, in forming the "Popular Front" and the liberation of France; that he had a "real attitude" towards the party leader in the Paris area; and he conducted a private (non-communized) correspondence with provincial party organizations.

Not Gold But Way Of Life' Says Film Star

TEL AVIV, Saturday.—As the screen at the Magabi Cinema darkened after the first performance of "The Champion" tonight, the stage lights came on and Mr. Kirk Douglas, star of the film, stepped onto the stage to greet the audience in Hebrew.

Mr. Douglas is in Israel for the shooting of part of the film "The Champion" in which he plays the leading role. Israel and America had much in common, Mr. Douglas said, both having fought a War of Independence and both having had to build up a new country. "You'll do it quicker," he revealed that his parents were poor Jewish immigrants to America.

His mother had expected to find gold in the street, but soon found out that this was not true. "You also don't have your streets paved with gold, but just as America, you will create something of greater value—a way of life," he said.

Furnaces

Oil burners, boilers, drying chambers for metal industry, foundries, dyers, food manufacturers. Revolving tray ovens for confectionery and bakeries. Vacuum pumps, ventilators—manufactured by:

AIR-THERMO LTD.
Harry Goldman, Eng.
44 Rehov Ailya, Tel. 2877, Tel Aviv.

PELTOURS

INSURANCE

TEL AVIV, 10 ABRAHAM ST. TEL. 6007
BRANCHES: JERUSALEM, HAIFA, NETANYAHU

THE PIONEERS OF INSURANCE IN THIS COUNTRY

SAVOY HOTEL

HAIFA

Tel. 4248
4249

The first class hotel in the Port
• First class day and night
• Prime rates

Cables in Brief

SENTENCES.—A Czech court in Prague has sentenced a "spy" to 10 years in prison for passing on to the East German secret service information on the Czechoslovak army and air force.

DELEGATES.—The West German Trade Union Federation has elected a delegate to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DISSEMINATION.—The chairman of the International Commission on the History of the Holocaust, Dr. E. H. Carr, has been elected to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DELEGATES.—The West German Trade Union Federation has elected a delegate to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DISSEMINATION.—The chairman of the International Commission on the History of the Holocaust, Dr. E. H. Carr, has been elected to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DELEGATES.—The West German Trade Union Federation has elected a delegate to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DISSEMINATION.—The chairman of the International Commission on the History of the Holocaust, Dr. E. H. Carr, has been elected to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DELEGATES.—The West German Trade Union Federation has elected a delegate to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DISSEMINATION.—The chairman of the International Commission on the History of the Holocaust, Dr. E. H. Carr, has been elected to the U.N. Conference on Disarmament in Geneva.

DELEGATES.—The West German Trade Union Federation has elected a delegate to the U.N. Conference on

